LANSING RESIGNATION BELIEVED HARBINGER OF BIG DISCLOSURES

CALLING OF CABINET MEETINGS NOT REAL CAUSE OF SUDDEN DISMISSAL

LANSING NOT IN HARMONY WITH WILSON ON PEACE TREATY AND MEXICAN AFFAIRS IS GENERAL BELIEF

WILSON TO ATTEND NEXT MEETING

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14—Further disclosures were believed imminent today in the controversy between President Wilson and Robert Lansing which resulted in the latter's resignation as Secretary of State altho Wilson's announced reason was for presiding over cabinet meetings without his authorization as President. The full substance of this long continued conflict between the President and the Secretary of State is expected to come to light during the next few days.

One of the first disclosures, it was learned, probably will be the making public of the letter of resignation of Herman P. Fletcher, former Ambassador to Mexico. This letter is understood to be a criticism of Wilsons' policy toward Mexico. A number of congressmen today were seeking means of bringing the Wilson-Lansing controversy before the House or Senate for discussion.

The hostility between Wilson and Lansing reached a breaking point it was authoritatively learned, while Wilson was on a tour of the country speaking in behalf of the treaty ratification last September. While the President was on that journey W. C. Bullitt a member of American Peace Commission testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations committee concerning the peace negotiations and his mission to Russia made the following statement: "that just before he left the President had a long conversation with Lansing concerning the treaty in which Lansing said in effect that the Senate or the American people would not approve of the treaty if they knew what it "let them in for." Lansing has never denied making such a statement to Bullitt.

The peace treaty and the policy with regard to Mexico, Bullitt declared he believed to be the real reasons for the President's action. "Mr. Lansing has been a most capable secretary and it would have been an easy matter for the President to have asked him personally for his resignation on the ground that they differed about matters of public policy rather than to dismiss him in this peremptory and harsh manner," he added.

No More Informal Cabinet Meetings

It was learned at the White House that there will be no more cabinet meetings until the President calls one and presides over it. Tumulty said the President was rapidly regaining strength and that it was probable he would calll such a meeting for the latter part of next week. This will be the first time the President has attended a cabinet session since before he began his speaking tour last September.

Tumulty Attended With Lansing

A statement that there will be no more cabinet resignations because of unauthorized meetings was taken in some quarters as an indication that Lansing's calling of such meetings was not the sole reason for his clash with the President.

It is known that Tumulty himself has taken part in some of these meetings and that other cabinet officials have suggested sessions when they had anything to talk over with their fellow members. The foreign powers with which the United States have relations were notified by the State Department today of the resignation of Lansing and the fact that Under Secretary Frank L. Polk is acting secretary.

Press Comments

The New York morning newspapers commented on the resignation of Secretary Lansing as follows: The Times: "The correspondence published this morning fully reveals the long suspected disharmony. The President has found that the Secretary disregarded his wishes and his instructions. The Secretary has been poised by the scant heed paid to his official counsel, and that state affairs were grave and amply warranted the preferring or demand for Mr. Lansing's resignation.

The World said: "The charge of usurpation made by the President against the Secretary of State is without precedent in history and the nation will not rest satisfied with the cryptic correspondence between Mr. Wilson and Mr. Lansing. There will be a general demand for a bill of particulars."

The Setinel of Fort Wayne, Ind., in commenting on the resignation of the President said: "President Wilson cherishes the unique notion that when he is incapacitated the United States government should cease functioning. Better send for old Dr. Dercum again."

The Journal, Syracuse, N. Y.: "Robert Lansing's forced retirement from the cabinet, besides being a political error, leads to the inevitable conclusion that President Wilson has not reached that point on the road to recovery that imminent diagnosticians have lead us to believe he occupies."

The Johnstown Tribune says: "The resignation of Robert Lansing as Secretary of State was inevitable from the nature of things. Mr. Lansing is a man of resolution and character and it is evident that only the exigencies of the situation attending the war and its aftermath have kept him in the cabinet to this time. It is regretable that he stuck to the administration until he was ordered to walk the plank."

The Oil City Blizzard declares: "The resignation of Secretary Lansing marks the dropping from political life of the brains of the Democratic administration and leaves the nation in the hands of the man who has been in a large measure President ex-officio for some months part."

The Dallas, Texas, Dispatch says: "Secretar Lansing's resignation wil be received with relief by all who wished to see the Wilsonian principles carried out in the American relations with other nations. Lansing has placed the government of the United States in danger of conflict with the govrenment of Mexico while Wilson was ill but fortunately the President was not so ill to be apprehensive of the danger."

WASHINGTON, February 14—Robert Lansing last night resigned as secretary of state.

Mr. Lansing left office because he was charged by President Wilson with assuming the prerogatives of the chief executive during the past four months in calling and presiding over cabinet meetings.

His resignation tendered in a letter under date of February 12, was accepted by the latter yesterday and became effective at once. Under Secretary of State Frank Polk is now ad interim the head of the state department and may be named as successor to Lansing.

The entire correspondence between the President and Mr. Lansing was made public last evening at the state department, and because of the gravity of the charge brought against Mr. Lansing constitutes one of the most amazing chapters in the history of the national public life.

Never before in the history of the country has the President accused the secretary of state of attempting to usurp presidential prerogatives.

In his letter tendering the resignation Mr. Lansing said that he could not "permit to pass unchallenged the imputation that in calling into informal conference the heads of the executive departments, I sought to usurp your presidential authority."

He explained that he believed that the cabinet conferences were for the best interests of the administration and of the republic. He also declared that his belief was "shared by others whom I consulted."

Mr. Lansing's declaration that he consulted with others—meaning other members of the cabinet before summoning them into conference—gave rise to the fact that all members of the

CUPID COMPELS SURRENDER OF 817 HEARTS DURING YEAR 1919

Fickle God Permits One In Every Ten To Drift Away From The Love They Declared Would Never Die

There was a grand total of 817 marriage licenses issued in Clearfield county during the year 1919, and, as though in anticipation of leap year, 80 of these licenses to wed were taken out during December.

A perusal of the records in Recorder Chase's office back through the years, shows that Clearfield county girls always appeared to fear they would be charged by their envious friends with having taken advantage of leap year's privilege to pop the question and hurried the young men of their choice into the matrimonial harness before leap year begun. Last December broke the record in this regard and accordingly there were more marriage licenses issued during that month than during any other single month since the marriage license law went into effect, more than thirty years ago.

Since the present leap year began or January 1st, 1920, to today, there have been issued 83 licenses, which seems to show that some of our girls are willing to do the wooing or the "popping," if that be necessary, regardless of quibble or pun.

While on this subject it might not be out of place to detail the following "leap year history" for the benefit of some of our fair friends who hesitate at taking the final plunge. The best available records show that the "leap year" privilege was accorded the female of the species in many land, many, many years ago. Here is the way they tell it in Ireland:

"St. Patrick was one day walking beside Lough Neagh, when he met St. Bridget in tears, and was told that a mutiny had broken out in the nunnery over which she presided, the ladies—who, one presumes, had not taken vows of celbacy,—claiming the right to "pop the question." St. Patrick said he would concede the right every seventh year, but St. Bridget besought him to make it one year in four. "I will," replied St. Patrick, "and I'll give ye leap year, the longest of the lot."

But one is on safer ground in considering Scotland's claim, for in 1288 a law was there enacted that "during the rein of hir maist blissit Megeste, for ilk yeare knowne as lepe yeare, ilk mayden layde shall hae liberte to bespeake ye man she likes. Gif he refuses to taik hir to be his lawful wyfe, he shall be mulcted in ye sum ane poundis or less, except he can mak it appeare that he is bethrothit to anither woman. He shall then be free."

This would make the permission appear to be a compliment to Margaret, the Fair Maid of Norway, granddaughter of Alexander III, of Scotland, who only nominally reigned, as she died on her passage to Scotland in 1290.

A similar law was passed in France some years later, and in the fifteenth century the custom was legalized in Genoa and Florence, so it was evidently taken very seriously at one time."

The above facts being as they are we now turn to the other side of the ledger. Before Recorder Chase issues a license he sks enough personal and pertinent questions to open the eyes of the ordinary person to just what kind of a proposition they are going up against, but alas, as has long been well stated, love is surely blind, and many victims see nothing but the sunshiny present. When the clouds arise and disillusionment and disenchantment occurs, the door of the office of Prothonotary Ralston, across the hall from the marriage license bureau, stand conveniently ajar. Judging from the records some of the seekers for permits to wed, appear to have made mental note of this fact, and therefore lose little time in hitting the trail to the divorce courts. In this connection it may not be out of place to say that the divorce suits begun in 1919 in the Clearfield county courts, totalled 81, or just ten per cent. of the total marriages. In other words, one out of every ten marriages "didn't take." Some high percentage, that.

The high cost of living is supposed to be a primary divorce cause, while the late unlamented John Barleycorn was generally blamed with a large share in the ship-wrecking of matrimonial craft. We may have to make apologies to John's detested memory if the record of divorce actions for the first month and one-half of 1920. is maintained throughout the entire year. Thus far in 1920, or during the first forty-four days of the new year, just 23 applications for divorce were placed on file in the Prothonotary's office.

While delving into these statistics we also discovered that while all of the applicants are anxious for their divorce to be granted by the court, they do not appear to be willing to pay the expenses incident, to have same properly placed upon the records of the county, and many lawyers and court officers have found that the person unfaithful to or quick to break the marriage contract, will also evade the contract to pay. In fact, this fact became so notorious that the poor, oftimes deluded attorney, demands his divorce court fee in hand before he begins hostilities. In this connection also, we might say that of the divorces actually granted nuring the past five years, the decrees in no less than fifty of them, are lying about, gathering dust in the files of the Prothonotary's office. And while the court dissolved the marriage alright, the cost of the proceeding remains unpaid, no decree has actually been issued. Many of the parties have been remarried, and there you are. Are they married once too often, just enough or what?

LOCAL BILLIARD BUGS ENJOYED HOPPE EXHIBITION

Clearfield billiard lovers were given a rare treat at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium last evening, when they were privileged to witness a billiard game between Willie Hoppe, the greatest cue artist the world has ever seen, and Prof. Charles Peterson, America's champion fancy shot.

These two distinguished gentlemen, who are touring the country giving exhibitions of how this old favorite "gentleman's game" should be played, were in Clearfield under the auspices of the Healey Brothers, proprietors of Healey's Market Street Billiard Parlors. About one hundred dyed-in-the-wool billiardists attended last night's game and were well repaid for their trouble.

Previous to the big game, which was won by Mr Hoppe by the score of 250 to 172, Prof. Peterson gave a highly interesting and instructive talk on how to play the game. He demonstrated how the different shots which come up in a game, should be played, and after pointing out how the amateur usually went after same and how it ought not to be attempted, then showed just how it should be done. His demonstration of the technic of the game was both highly entertaining and instructive.

LOCAL BASKETBALL TEAM LOSES HARD-FOUGHT BATTLE

DuBois Courier.

As a result of a clean-cut victory over Clearfield, the ancient enemy, last evening at the local high school gymnasium, the DuBois High School five rests at the top of the heap this morning, although they are sharing that honor with Punxsutawney. The Clearfield five lost to DuBois by a score of 29 to 34, while Punxsutawney was being defeated by New Bethlehem.

The game last evening was an unusually interesting one to watch, as the score was rather uncomfortably close towards the finish, although DuBois led most of the way. When hostilities ceased at the end of the first half DuBois led by a good margin, score 22 to 13. But the county seat representatives put up a more strenuous battle in the second half and eventually cut down the lead.

League Standing

As a result of the two league games that were played last evening the standing was changed considerably. DuBois moved into a tie for first place with Punxsutawney, New Bethlehem demonstrating that the Jefferson county team was not unbeatable. The last game I began by their victory over and with Clearfield for [illegible] Brookville did not play at [illegible] because of sickness [illegible] The standings:

THE LANSING RESIGNATION

A most careful perusal of the Lansing-Wilson correspondence is necessary to the formation of an opinion as to the status of the controversy as it affects both men. There is a merit in the contentions of each principal.

It is apparent that the resignation of Mr. Lansing was much desired by the President and that no letter the Secretary of State could have written the President would have been accepted as closing the gap existing between them. Mr. Lansing's reply to the inquiry of the President is couched in terms of apology and regret that offence had been given. The Secretary naturally inferred that the President desired complete humility and offered to quit to clear the way for a settlement of the difficulty which would least embarrass Mr. Wilson. There was every opportunity given Mr. Wilson to accept Mr. Lansing's apology and close the unfortunate incident but Mr. Wilson was not content to take the hide and leave the meat.

The second letter Mr. Lansing wrote to the President reveals the real reason for the requsted resignation—lack of sympathy with Wilsonian ideals, aims and official acts. Mr. Wilson was, therefore, within his rights in requesting the resignation of one whom he set up and from whom he expected the fullest sympathetic support. The retirement of Mr. Lansing adds one more able man to the long list of men who have found it impossible to go through the mental contortions demanded by the Chief Executive and lends strength to the contention of many that the President is a stubbornly willful ruler.

The most astounding revelation is the fact that the President was so out of touch with his government that he did not know that cabinet meetings had been held during his four months illness until "somebody told him." In spite of Mr. Lansing's assurance that the meetings were entirely informal and made necessary by rapidly changing conditions and new business which should be administered by counseling together instead of by individual departmental action Mr. Wilson seems to take the position that the nation's business could wait for him to recover.

Is this a republic or a monarchy?

AS INDIVIDUALS

There was no reason to expect the farmers to approve the American Federation of Labor plan to grab the Presidency and control Congress, next Fall, by uniting to elect only friends of union labor in November. The Federation and the farmer have little in common. Long hours and increased production are essentials to the farmer's success; short hours and limited production have been the trade unionists' program for years. The farmer understands that prices and public welfare depend upon quantity produced—whether it be grain or steel rails. He realizes that if he indulges in a six or even an eight-hour day, the year around food prices would go out of sight and thousands would starve. If the trade unionist knows this he does not show it. The interests of the two are in many respects diametrically opposed.

But at all events the Federation of Labor's program should not be taken too seriously. Americans do not vote as they are told. More issues than trade unionism will enter into the next campaign and some of far more importance, however much stress Mr. Gompers may lay on the plan to vote only for labor union candidates.

The thing will work two ways. Those outside the unions, even though every union man voted according to "orders" would as likely as not oppose the purely union candidate, and they are in the majority. But even so votes cannot be corralled wholesale in this fashion. Americans vote the way their consciences dictate, and many factors enter into their decisions at the polls. The "farm vote" the "liquor vote", the "foreign vote," and the "labor vote" are largely myths. They never have been, and porbably never will be delivered to any candidate or ticket in blocks. They vote as individuals, according to their own beliefs and convictions.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

LANSING'S RESIGNATION IS HARBINGER OF BIG DISCLOSURES

cabinet who participated in the meetings might feel it incumbent to resign. Efforts to determine whether or not any of the other members of the cabinet took this view were unavailing as all approached with the exception of Secretary of Labor Wilson, who has been in attendance at all of the "outlaw" sessions, preserved silence. All that Secretary Wilson would say, and he would talk only through a third party, was "that he knew nothing whatever of anything pertaining to the entire situation."

Against the view that the President might be tendered a sheaf of resignations, however was the fact that only a few weeks ago, the President appointed Secretary of Agriculture Houston, who was likewise in attendance at the "outlaw" meetings, secretary of the treasury to succeed Carter Glass. This action makes it apparent that he believes Mr. Lansing to be the one guilty party and the one on whom all the responsibility rests.

The President in his letters to Lansing expressed ignorance that cabinet meetings had been held during his illness. He said he had been told so and asked Mr. Lansing to inform him whether the report that had reached him was true.

It was recalled that during the Praesident's illness there was an intense desire in Congress to ascertain whether or not he was competent. Before the senate had acted upon the Fall resolution requesting the President to withdraw recognition of Mexico, the senate sent two of its members, Senators Fall and Hitchcock to the White House to confer with the President and report back his views but in reality what was wanted was a report on the President's mental and physical condition.

The President in his correspondence with Lansing, not only admits that he did not know what the cabinet was doing but charges Lansing with having usurped some of his prerogatives.

In view of this admission and charge there was a good deal of gossip to the effect that the senate might appoint a committee to investigate the circumstances surrounding the first four months of the President's illness and the grounds for the charge of usurpation.

To ascertain the possibility of such a step half a dozen of the Republican leaders were communicated with tonight.

They were loathe to coment on the resignation, but they did not think an inquiry would be made.

The most surprising feature to the senators was the President's practical confession of incompetency for a period of four months, during all of which time cabinet meetings were held every week. Another reaction experienced was the thought that Mr. Lansing because of the manner in which he was treated at Paris and since his return by the President, should have resigned a long time ago.

On the whole though, they believe that the differences between Mr. Wilson and Mr. Lansing were such that they could only be settled between the two men and the senate had no right to interfere.

The correspondence between the President and Mr. Lansing follows:

THE WHITE HOUSE
Washington, 7 February, 1920

Mr. dear Mr. Secretary:

Is it true, as I have been told, that during my illness, you have frequently called the heads of the executive departments of the government into conference? If it is, I feel it my duty to call your attention to considerations which I do not care to dwell upon until I learn from you yourself that this is the fact. Under our constitutional law and practice, as developed hitherto, no one but the President has the right to summon the heads of the executive departments into conference, and no one but the President and the Congress has the right to ask their views or the views of any one of them on any public question.

I take this matter up with you because in the development of every constitutional system, custom and precedent are of the most serious consequence, and I think we will all agree in desiring not to lead in any wrong direction. I have therefore taken the liberty of writing you to ask you this question, and I am sure you will be glad to answer.

I am happy to learn from your recent note to Mrs. Wilson that your strength is returning.

Cordially and sincerely yours.
WOODROW WILSON

Hon. Robert Lansing
Secretary of State

THE SECRETARY OF STATE
Washington, February 9, 1920

Mr. dear Mr. President:

It is true that frequently during your illness I requested the heads of the executive departments of the government to meet for informal conference.

Shortly after you were taken ill in October, certain members of the cabinet, of which I was one, felt that, in view of the fact that we were denied communication with you, it was wise for us to confer informally together on interdepartmental matters and matters at to which action could not be postponed until your medical advisers permitted you to pass upon them. Accordingly I, a sthe ranking member, requested the members of the cabinet to assemble for such in-

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Well-known local druggist says everybody is using old-time recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful and thousands of women and men who valeu that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delihgts the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearacne of abundance.

Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks

To look one's best and feel one's best a thorough rub made both each morning to clear from the system the previous day's waste and fermentations and put the entire body in condition before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as one would bathe the outer body to keep it clean and healthy, one should bathe the inner body to keep it clean and healthy.

A certain amount of impurities collect in the alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Girls and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pasty complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, dizzy spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphated hot water drinking and are assured of very remarkable results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store is sufficient to demonstrate how much more beautiful hot water charges purifies the blood through the very life of the skin, so that the skin pores can carry off the waste matter.

If you want to see the glow of health in your cheeks, the sparkle in your eyes, the purity and clearness you are told to consider beauty, begin by flushing your system every morning with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in a glass of hot water with a fruit acid to make it effervescent. This is the most harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels thus clearing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal.

Women who desire to enhance the beauty of their complexion should just try this for a week and notice results.

ONE HOUR SERVICE FOR EVERYBODY IS AIM OF STATE POLICE

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 13—A plan whereby a state policeman mounted on a motorcycle can, in an hour's notice reach any point in the state, will be inaugurated in the Pennsylvania State Police Force early in the spring, Deputy Superintendent Lynn G. Adams announced today.

The plan when in operation will serve to sidetrack the automobile bandit and thief who plies his trade from state to state, in the opinion of Superintendent Adams. He will be easily susceptible to capture through a signal system to stations from which the motorcycle-mounted policemen would be sent to cut off all possible means of escape, Captain Adams added. It will likewise affect the bank robber, horse thief and automobile law violator.

Forty central stations will be established at as many points over the state from which squads of motorcycle policemen will operate. They will ride solo machines and will patrol all the principal highways within a designated radius of the central station. A telephone system will be established along the highways and when the central office wishes to get into communication with a patrolman on the road a signal will be dropped in front of a telephone station which the passing policeman will see. He will answer the telephone and follow any instructions that may be given. The policeman patrolling a highway will also have as his territory all roads thirty-five miles in any direction but will leave the main highway only on orders from the central office.

The establishment of the stations is well under way and officers are visiting every small bank in the state to learn the needs in robbery precautions and to make plans to co-operate with the bans to this end.

The motorcycle patrol will require the addition of a large number of men.

AMERICAN GIRLS TABOO TATTOO

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14—American women who yearn to be "a la mode" and "advanced" will hesitate in following the newest fad of Paris and London women who are going in for the painting of chipmunks and other cunning little animals on their white shoulders just above the shoulder-straps of their evening gowns.

This falls far short of the mode—in America, at least. Women of the Osage Indian tribe did it centuries ago. They even extended the custom to the decoration of their ankles, according to the Smithsonian Institution, which studied the custom through Francis La Flesche, Indian expert of the Institution. The custom is fully described in a Smithsonian publication which calls it, "Ga-hi-ge O-k'o" or the "Rite Belonging to the Chiefs." Chief Wa-xthi-zhi explained the custom to Expert La Flesche.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

(Copyright, 1920, Western Newspaper Union)

LESSON FOR FEBRUARY 15

PETER AND CORNELIUS.

LESSON TEXT—Acts 10.

GOLDEN TEXT—The same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him.—Rom. 10:12.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Acts 15: 1-35; Gal. 2:1-21.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God's Love for Everybody.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Peter Wins a Roman Captain.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Overcoming of Prejudice.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Significance of the Conversion of Cornelius.

The conversion of Cornelius broke down the "middle wall of partition" between the Jews and Gentiles (Eph. 2:4).

I. Cornelius (vv. 1, 2).

1. His official position (v. 1). He was a Roman officer over a company of 100 soldiers, perhaps of about the same rank as a captain in the American army.

2. His character (v. 2). (1) A devout, pious man. His heart was filled with godly fear. (2) He was a praying man; he observed the Jewish hour of prayer. (3) He was charitable; he gave much alms. (4) He was respected by his family.

The Lord chose Cornelius for the transition of the Gospel to the Gentiles because of his character and position. No Jew could find any fault with him. He was a good man, but not a saved man.

II. The Supernatural Preparation for the Transition of the Gospel to the Gentiles (vv. 3-33).

1. Two visions were given. (1) The vision of Cornelius (vv. 3-8). While engaged in prayer an angel of God instructed him to send to Joppa for Peter, who would tell him what to do. The angel told him that Peter lodged with Simon, a tanner, to show Cornelius that Peter was not the strictest Jew. The calling of a tanner was regarded as unclean by the strict Jews, and the tanners were commanded to dwell apart. Cornelius sent at once for Peter. He was living up to the best light he had, so he received more. (2) The vision of Peter (vv. 9-16). This took place while Peter was praying (v. 9). If one would receive visions from God, let him pray to God; for the heavens are open to those who pray. He saw a certain vessel containing clean and unclean animals let down from heaven, and heard the command: "Rise, Peter; kill, and eat." Peter protested that he had never eaten any unclean thing. God replied: "What God hath cleansed, call not thou common." This vessel let down from heaven and taken back indicated that both Jew and Gentile were accepted on high.

2. Messengers from Cornelius (vv. 17-22). Peter was greatly perplexed over what he had seen, but not for long; for messengers from Cornelius made inquiry at the gate for him. The spirit informed Peter of the matter and bade him go, nothing doubting.

3. The meeting of Cornelius and Peter (vv. 23-33). (1) Peter took six witnesses along (v. 23). He had the good judgment to know that on a matter of so great importance he must have witnesses. This was proved at the Jerusalem council in the consideration of the question of the reception of the Gentiles into the church (11:1-18). (2) Cornelius waiting for Peter (v. 24). He called together his kinsmen and near friends. (3) Cornelius about to worship Peter (vv. 25, 26). Peter repudiated this act and protested that he was but a man. The true man of God not only dislikes, but refuses to be worshiped. (4) The reciprocal explanation (vv. 27-33). Peter explained to him how God had taken from him his Jewish prejudice and asked that Cornelius state the purpose of his having sent for him. Cornelius explained how God had appeared unto him and instructed him to send for Peter.

III. Peter's Sermon (vv. 34-43).

1. The introduction (vv. 34, 35). He showed that God is no respecter of persons, but that in every nation those who fear God and work righteousness are accepted of him.

2. The discourse (vv. 36-43). In the discourse he touches briefly upon the mission of Jesus, showing that by means of his baptism and anointing with the Holy Spirit he was qualified for his work as mediator. He then exhibited the work of Christ (1) in his life (vv. 36-39). (2) In his death (v. 39). (3) In his resurrection (vv. 40, 41).

IV. The Holy Spirit Poured Out (vv. 44-48).

This was a new Pentecost. As the Gospel was entering upon its widest embrace the Spirit came in new power.

Power of Faith.

Christianity has its best exponents in the lives of the saints. It is only when our creeds pass into the iron of the blood that they become vital and organic. Faith if not transmuted into character has lost its power.—C. L. Thompson.

No Man Is Useless.

So long as we love, we serve; so long as we are loved by others we are indispensable; no man is useless while he has a friend.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Hummel, of Martin street, attended the funeral of Mrs. Charles M. Smith, at Curwensville yesterday afternoon.

formal conference, and in view of the mutual benefit derived the practice was continued. I can assure you that it never for a moment entered my mind that I was acting unconstitutionally or contrary to your wishes, and there certainly was no intention on my part to assume powers and exercise functions which under the constitution are exclusively confided to the President.

During these troublous times, when many difficult and vexatious questions have arisen and when in the circumstances I have ben edeprived of your guidance and direction, it has been my constant endeavor to carry out your policies as I understood them and to act in all matters as I believed you would wish me to act. If, however, you think that I have failed in my loyalty to you and if you no longer have confidence in me, and prefer to have another conduct our foreig naffairs, I am of course ready, Mr. President, to relieve you of any embarrassment by placing my resignation in your hands.

I am as always,
ROBERT LANSING

THE WHITE HOUSE
Washington 11 February, 1920

My dear Mr. Secretary:

I am very much disappointed by your letter of February ninth in reply to mine asking about the so-called cabinet meetings. You kindly explain the motives of those meetings and I find nothing in your letter which justifies your assumption of presidential authority in such a matter. You say you "felt that in view of the fact that you were denied communication with me, it was wise to confer informally together on interdepartmental matters and matters as to which action could not be postponed until my medical advisers permitted me" to be seen and consulted, but I have to remind you, Mr. Secretary, that no action could be taken without me by the cabinet, and therefore there could have been no disadvantage in awaiting action with regard to matters concerning which action could not have been taken without me.

This affair, Mr. Secretary, only deepens a feeling that was growing upon me. While we were still in Paris I felt, and have felt increasingly ever since, that you accepted my guidance and direction on questions with regard to which I had to instruct you only with increasing reluctance, and since my return to Washington I have been struck by the number of matters in which you have apparently tried to forestall my judgment by formulating action and merely asking my approval when it was impossible for me to form an independent judgment because I had not had an opportunity to examine the circumstances with any degree of independence.

I, therefore, feel that I must frankly take advantage of your kind suggestion that if I should prefer to have another to conduct our foreign affairs you are ready to relieve me of any embarrassment by placing your resignation in my hands, for I must say that it would relieve me of embarrassment. Mr. Sec't'y, the embarrassment of feeling your reluctance and divergence of judgment, if you would give your present office up and afford me an opportunity to select some one whose mind would more willingly go along with mine.

I need not tell you with what reluctance I take advantage of your suggestion or that I do so with the kindliest feeling. In matters of transcendent importance like this the only wise course is a course of perfect candor, where personal feeling is as much as possible left out of the reckoning.

Very sincerely yours,
WOODROW WILSON

Hon. Robert Lansing
Secretary of State

THE SECRETARY OF STATE
Washington. Feb. 12, 1920

My dear Mr. President:

I wish to thank you sincerely for your candid letter of the 11th in which you state that my resignation would be acceptable to you, since it relieves me of the responsibility for action which I have been contemplating and which I can now take without hesitation, as it meets your wishes.

I have the honor, therefore, to tendering you my resignation as secretary of state, the same to take effect at your convenience.

In thus severing our official association I feel, Mr. President, that I should make the following statement which I had prepared recently and which will show you that I have not been unmindful that the continuance of our present relations was impos-

An Appreciation

We want to express our sincere appreciation for the consideration the telephone using public have shown us during the past three weeks, during which time sickness, etc., has taxed our resources to the limit in our efforts to give you the most efficient service possible.

As a valuable aid and to make our task easier and the service to you more prompt and efficient, we have issued an emergency directory of Clearfield, which is being distributed today.

We therefore invite your further co-operation by CALLING BY NUMBER. This will be mutually advantageous; to us by enabling us to handle your telephone calls to your greater satisfaction. We are training a new operating force.

The average girl can be developed into a satisfactory "local" operator in a week or ten days if calls are made by number, instead of months if calls are made by name.

We ask your further co-operation in this emergency, in which sickness plays no inconsiderable part by eliminating all unnecessary calls and making such conversations as are urgent as brief as possible.

Heat ALL Your House
THROUGH ONE REGISTER

Yes, it's just as possible in your home as it has been in fifty thousand others. You, too, may have every room comfortable with balmy healthful heat, reaching every corner by Nature's method of circulation—and all through only one register! It isn't necessary to clutter up your house with pipes, overheat your cellar and incur big bills —not when you can get the

PIPELESS CALORIC FURNACE

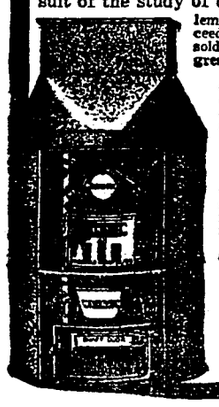

The Original Patented Pipeless Furnace

It can be set up in a day, without inconvenience to you, and will make your home so comfortable in the severest winter weather you will be well repaid.

Your house will be uniformly warm; your cellar will be just right for the storage of fruits and vegetables. Your fuel bill will be less than with stoves that heat only a part of your house.

HERE ARE THE REASONS

The Caloric is the Original Patented Pipeless Furnace—the result of the study of competent engineers to solve the heating problem in the most satisfactory way. That they have succeeded is proved by the fact that the number of Calorics sold on an absolute guarantee of satisfaction is three times greater than any other pipeless furnace.

The cause of this satisfaction lies in the patented and exclusive principles that distinguish the Caloric from all others. It is not a pipe furnace provided with an extra casing, but a complete revolution in furnace building designed exclusively for pipeless heating.

Come In And See Us

We will show you what these principles are, and you will then see what Caloric quality means, why it always succeeds and why imitations cannot accomplish the same results. Then you will be in no danger of buying an inferior article, with all its disappointment in later months.

Get a copy of the book "Progress," which tells the fact about pipeless heating. If you can't come in, write for it.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Ord L. Norris and Mr. and Mrs. George Norris, all of Clearfield, were in Curwensville yesterday attending the funeral of a neice, Mrs. Charles Smith.

Thad Cassidy was called home yesterday from his work at the finishing tannery on account of the illness of Mrs. Cassidy at their home on River street.

Joseph H. Patton, son of the late Senator A. E. Patton, was in Curwensville several days the latter part of this week transacting business relative to his business interests here.

The Progress correspondent was misinformed in stating that Mrs. Johnson Holden had died at the home of Erbin Cleaver in Pike township one day this week. The lady is alive and enjoying comparatively good health for her years. We make this correction in justice to Mrs. Holden and also to our informant who was given the wrong dope by a party who should have known better than to have started such an erroneous report.

Mrs. William Holden, south Walnut street, died on Thursday evening after an illness covering a period of several years from cancer. She was in the 62d year of her age. Her husband William Holden died in 1906, and her only daughter, Louisa Holden passing away about fourteen months ago. She was the eldest daughter of Daniel and Louisa (Humphrey) Faust, both deceased. She is survived by one son, William Holden and one brother, Linn Faust, who resides at Winkinsburg. Her funeral will be held from her home on Sunday afternoon. Interment in Oan Hill.

The funeral of Modiste Abrino, who died last Thursday will be held from the home of his mother on Bailey road, Sunday afternoon. Interment in Oak Hill cemetery.

Prof. Mays, one of the teachers in the High school has resigned his position, to take effect the latter part of next week. The board has not as yet selected his successor.

The members of the Board of Health held a meeting in the Public building Thursday evening for the purpose of discussing the epidemic of sickness prevalent within the borough limits. It was rumored that the schools were to be closed, but the board decided that the move was not a wise one, and the schools will go just as they have been, although almost a hundred of the pupils have dropped out on account of illness of themselves or in their families. L. Raymond Wingert, the secretary of the board has had printed in the Herald a warning to the public which every householder should strictly observe, and also defines the diseases which should be immediately reported to him.

Dr. O. E. Janney, of Baltimore, Md., will deliver a lecture in the M. E. church on Monday evening, February 16th. No admission will be charged as it given under the auspices of the entertainment committee of the Industrial and Community Association.

COURT NOTES

Chase & Chase, on behalf of E. E. Fry entered a judgment in the Prothonotary's office yesterday against John Baker, upon an award made by Compensation Referee Jacob Snyder. The statement shows that Fry, who was employed by Baker as a teamster and woodsman, cut his knee with an axe while working in the woods near Spangler on February 15, 1919. He was laid up until April 1st, 1919. After a hearing at Indiana on November 20th last Fry was awarded $68.44.

The Boyer-Gillam Co. entered suit in the Prothonotary's office yesterday against L. M. Freidley in an effort to recover $800 alleged to be due on an unpaid claim for merchandise. The plaintiffs attorneys are Chase & Chase and R. H. Gilbert of Tyrone.

Dr. Johnson's Dictionary.

Dr. Johnson is commonly reckoned as a successful author, yet he received for many of his compositions a comparatively small sum. His most profitable undertaking was the dictionary, for which he asked $7,875. The task occupied his time for seven years.

CONSTANT BRONCHIAL COUGH FOR 16 YEARS

Then Mrs. Crawshaw stopped her cough so quickly it alarmed her.

"I suffered with bronchial trouble and asthma for 16 years. In January, 1904, I had an unusually severe spell, resulting in pneumonia and was confined to bed for 4 months. Then I began to mend, but my cough never left.

"The following October, I tried Milks Emulsion. After a few days my cough gave way, and ceased entirely after another bottle—so sudden that I became alarmed. Getting over my fear, I took 6 bottles more. For 9 months previous I had coughed night and day, but my cough ceased entirely. For 16 years I used all kinds of medicines until I became skeptical. But the results from Milks Emulsion were nothing short of marvelous."—Mrs. J. B. Crawshaw, 1438 Grand Ave., Des Moines, Iowa.

For bronchial or other severe coughs, or hard colds, Milks Emulsion is really remarkable. The system is built up and strengthened to throw off the trouble.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whom sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.

Guaranteed by Stewart's Drug Store.

sible and that I realized that it was clearly my duty to bring them to an end at the earliest moment compatible with the public interest.

Ever since January, 1910, I have been conscious of the fact that you no longer were disposed to welcome my advice in matters pertaining to the negotiations in Paris, to our foreign service, or to international affairs in general. Holding these views I would, if I had consulted by personal inclination alone, have resigned as secretary of state and as a commissioner to negotiate peace. I felt, however, that such a step might have been misinterpretted both at home and abroad, and that it was my duty to cause you no embarrassment in carrying forward the great task in which you were then engaged. Possibly I erred in this, but if I did it was with the best of motives.

When I returned to Washington in the latter part of July, 1019, my personal wish to resign had not changed, but again I felt that loyalty to you and my duty to the administration compelled me to defer action, as my resignation might have been misconstrued into hostility to the ratification of the treaty of peace or at least into disapproval of your views as to the form of ratification. I therefore remained silent, avoiding any comment on the frequent reports that we were not in full agreement. Subsequently your serious illness, during which I have never seen you, imposed upon me the duty—at least I construed it to be my duty—to remain in charge of the Department of State until your health permitted you to assume again full direction of foreign affairs.

Believing that that time had arrived I had prepared my resignation when my only doubt as to the propriety of placing it in your hands was removed by your letter indicating that it would be entirely acceptable to you.

I think, Mr. President, in accordance with the frankness which has marked this correspondence and for which I am grateful to you, that I cannot pcit to pass unhallenged the imputation that in calling into formay conference the heads of the executive departments I sought to usurp your presidential authority. I had no such intention, no such thought. I believed then and I believe now that the conferences which were held were for the best interests of your administration and of the republic, anr that belief was shared by others whom I consulted. I further believe that the conferences were proper anr necessary in the circumstances and that I would have been rerelict in my duty if I had failed to act as I did.

I also feel, Mr. President, that candor compels me to say that I cannot agree with your statement that I have tried to forestall your judgment in certain cases by formulating action and merely asking your approval when it was impossible for you to form an independent judgment because you had not had an opportunity to examine the circumstances with any degree of independence. I have, it is true, when I thought a case demanded immediate action, advised you what, in my opinion, that action should be, stating at the same time the reasons on which my opinion was based. This I conceived to be a function of the secretary of state and I have followed the practice for the past four years and a half. I confess that I have been surprised and disappointed at the frequent disapproval of my suggestions, but I have never failed to follow your decisions, however difficult it made the conduct of our foreign affairs.

I need hardly add that I leave the office of secretary of state with only good-will toward you, Mr. President, and with a sense of profound relief.

Forgetting our differences and remembering only your many kindnesses in the past, I have the honor to be, Mr. President,

Sincerely yours,
ROBERT LANSING

My dear Mr. Secretary:

Allow me to acknowledge with appreciation your letter of February 12th. It now being evident, Mr. Secretary, that we have both of us felt the embarrassment of our recent relations with each other, I feel it my duty to accept your resignation, to take effect at once; and at the same time adding that I hope that the future holds for you many successes of the most gratifying sort. My best wishes will always follow you, and it will be a matter of gratification to me to always remember our delightful personal relations.

Applied Mathematics

Did you ever realize that the examination of your eye, to determine the glasses you need, is a case of applied mathematics.

The Optometrist measures the refraction error of your eye and figures out the formula for a lens necessary to correct the errors.

For your glasses to be satisfactory, this formula must be absolutely correct. You see the necessity for a very careful examination by a skilled Optometrist.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts to flush out your Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness resultfrom uric acid. says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causng a burning, scalding sensation, or setting an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and somtimes very painful, this is one of the most smple ailments to overcome. Get about four unces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

Flu and Colds How They Can Be Prevented

Sleep Well—Eat Wisely---Exercise Regularly---Avoid Persons Having Colds -- Don't Worry.

KEEP AIR PASSAGES CLEAR

Inflamed Air Passages Make Ideal Breeding Grounds for Flu Germs

Flu This Year is Milder

While we know very little more about the flu now than we did last year—the germ itself has never been positively identified—still most authorities agree that the germs are breathed in. If the system is in good shape and the membrane or lining of the air passages is in healthy condition—these germs are thrown off.

A good plan is to melt a little Vick's VapoRub in a spoon night and morning, and inhale the vapors, also apply a little up the nostrils several times a day, especially just before being exposed to crowds.

Treat All Colds Promptly

Above all, keep free from colds, as colds irritate the lining of the air passages and make them real breeding grounds for germs. Prompt use of Vick's VapoRub aids in preventing colds. For head colds, sore throat or hoarseness, rub Vicks well over the the throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth. For deep chest colds, severe sore throat or bronchitis, hot wet towels should first be applied to the throat, chest and back between the shoulder blades to open the pores. Then Vicks should be rubbed in over the parts until the skin is red—spread on thickly and covered with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck, so the vapors, released by the body heat, may be freely inhaled.

These vapors, inhaled with each breath, carry the medication directly to the lungs and air passages. At the same time Vicks is absorbed thru and stimulates the skin, thus aiding to relieve the congestion within.

Use of External Tratment for Colds Increasing

Vick's VapoRub is the discovery of a North Carolina druggist who found how to combine in Salve form, the standard time tested remedies, Camphor — Menthol — Eucalyptus—Thyme, etc.—so that when the salve is applied to the body heat, these ingredients are liberated in the form of vapors.

Vicks is particularly recommended for children's croup or colds, snce it is externally applied and therefore can be used frely and often without the slightest harmful effects.

The best evidence of the value of Vicks is the steadily increasing number of people who have been converted to the use of this outside treatment.

Beginning with the customers of a small retail drug store, the use of Vicks has grown—year by year—state by state—until now more than 17 million jars are sold annually. And this in spite of the fact that Vicks is a new form of treatment to many folks in the North and West. Vicks can be had at all druggists in three sizes—30c, 60c or $1.20.

PAINS NEARLY DOUBLED ME UP

Nothing Helped Me Until I Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Wyandotte, Mich.—"For the last four years I have doctored off and on without help. I have had pains every month so bad that I would nearly double up. Sometimes I could not sweep a room without stopping to rest, and everything I ate upset my stomach. Three years ago I lost a child and suffered so badly that I was out of my head at times. My bowels did not move for days and I could not eat without suffering. The doctor could not help me and one day I told my husband that I could not stand the pain any longer and sent him to the drug-store to get me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and threw the doctor's medicine away. After taking three bottles of Vegetable Compound and using two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash I could do my own housework. If it had not been for your medicine I don't know where I would be today and I am never without a bottle of it in the house. You may publish this if you like that it may help some other woman."—Mrs. MARY STENDER, 120 Orange St., Wyandotte, Mich.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How To Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds.
